JAMES REGAN

Again Selected National President of Ancient Order of Hibernians.

Chicago Convention Most Harmonious in Orders History.

Optional Insurance Plan Was Referred to National Board.

MRS. ELLEN RYAN JOLLY WINS

After one of the most harmonious conventions in the history of the Ancient Order of Hibernians, in which the Kentucky delegates took prominent part, the national officers of the order were elected Friday night at the Emmet Memorial Hall. James J. Regan, of St. Paul, was unanimously re-elected to the office of National President by a standing vote.

The plea of the Canadian members for representation on the National Board was granted and the Canadian Hibernians will have a Vice President, who will officiate in the absence of the National President at all functions of the order. Charles J. Foy, Perth, Ontario, was elected as Vice President for Canada. The other officers elected were Joseph McLaughlin, of Philadelphia, Vice President; Phil J. Sullivan, Thompsonville, Conn., Secretary; Thomas Moloney, Mayor of Council Bluffs, Iowa, Treasurer. The National Directors are: The Rev. W. T. McLaughlin, Union Hill, N. J.; M. T. Powers, Grand Rapids, Mich.; P. T. Moran, Washington, D. C.; W. J. Doherty, Chicago, Ill., and M. J. Barry, Columbus, Ohio.

Reports of the national officers show substantial gains in both the Ancient Order and Ladies' Auxiliary, which elected Mrs. Ellen Ryan Jolly of Rhode Island, as the successor of Miss Anna Mallis, of Scranton. The Ladies' Auxiliary has been in existence only since 1888, but it already has a membership of 65,000. Both societies have been generous to the "mother country." They have given large contributions to the Gaelic League of Ireland and to many other worthy causes in the old world.

Full time was devoted to the business of the convention and to the completion of the amendments to the constitution. The changes made were few and unimportant, and thus the members are now conversant with the laws of the order. Special consideration was given by the men and women to legislation on a plan of insurance, but it was deemed best to refer the whole matter to the National Board, which will report a plan at the next national convention, which will meet at Norfolk, Va., two years hence.

The most exciting scene in the convention of the Ladies' Auxiliary followed the address of Vice President Joseph McLaughlin. "Irish women should have home rule and equal rights in America, just as every man and woman in Ireland should have it," he said. "It is the good, old-fashioned Irish mother who has reared her children to honorable manhood and womanhood who has made the Irish race what it is today. Why shouldn't she have home rule?"

Mr. McLaughlin's speech brought forth a storm of indignation from the 500 women assembled in the hall. "Suffrage? We don't know anything about suffrage. We are all old-fashioned women and last night when we discovered an incontinent suffragist among us we nearly threw her out of the window," laughed Miss Mary MacWhorter, National Director of the Ladies' Auxiliary and Chairman of the Committee on Irish History. Miss MacWhorter refused to reveal the name of the suffragist, however. "I don't say that any Irish women are in favor of equal rights for women. We don't want them and wouldn't take them if they were offered to us."

Mrs. Catherine A. O'Keefe O'Mahoney expressed practically the same views as Miss MacWhorter. "Irish women generally are not in favor of suffrage, I believe. Most of them are married and nearly all have large families. They do not have time to think about anything except keeping house and raising children."

The Kentucky delegates began arriving home Monday, and all express themselves as approving all that was done during the week.

ST. CECILIA'S.

During the past few weeks a number of beautiful new stained glass windows have been placed in St. Cecilia's church on Twenty-fifth street. They are exquisite works of art and among the most beautiful to be seen anywhere. Father Brady is constantly adding to the attractiveness of his handsome new church.

DECORATING ST. GEORGE'S.

St. George's church, Eighteenth and Magnolia avenue, of which Father George A. Weiss is the energetic and zealous pastor, is being artistically decorated by the noted firm of Blank Bros., of Newark, N. J. The cost of the work will be $2,500, and to meet this expense the congregation has arranged to give a garden party on Monday and Tuesday evenings of next week on the lawn adjoining the residence of Mrs. William A. Janing, located on the Eighteenth street road just a short distance outside the city limits. There will be an abundance of refreshments and amusements. And at the close of the festival Tuesday evening a number of valuable awards will be made.

EDIFYING.

Reception of Young Women Into Ursuline Order.

One of the most edifying ceremonies of the Catholic church took place Wednesday morning in the beautiful Immaculate Conception chapel, Shelby and Chestnut, when seven novices made their vows and fourteen young women received the habit of the Ursuline Sisters. This solemn and impressive ceremony, by which these young girls, just in the first flush of womanhood, forsake relatives and the world to devote their lives to works of charity and prayer, has caused many to ponder the better part—the one chosen by Margaret or Mary. Right Rev. Bishop O'Donoghue bestowed the habit on the postulants and received into the Ursuline order the seven who had passed the probationary period. Quite a number of the clergy and many friends and relatives of the young women assisted at the religious services. Those who made their vows are Sister Modesta, Sister Juliana, Sister Alexina, Sister Esther, Sister Marcellina, Sister Theresita and Sister Clothilde. Those who received the habit were Miss Bessie Morgan, Miss Josephine Kelly, Miss Annie Graf, Miss Mary Shaney, Miss Lou Schaefer, Miss Katherine Zillich, Miss Mary O'Neill, Miss Victoria Weisberger, Miss Margaret Emmers, Miss Minnie Denker, Miss Mary Launer, Miss Frances Huber, Miss Katie Schwengel, Miss Gertrude Vaeth.

CATHOLIC KNIGHTS.

Annual Celebration Monday at Fontaine Ferry Park.

The annual celebration of the Catholic Knights of America, postponed till next Monday, promises to bring to Fontaine Ferry Park one of the season's biggest gatherings. It is expected the full membership of the seventeen branches in the Louisville area will be there with their families and friends, and for their entertainment Manager Bilger and Capt. Oscar Maier have arranged a programme of more than ordinary merit. As stated in a previous issue, the proceeds will be used in providing a handsome float and entertaining the Supreme officers during the Federation convention, and it is therefore earnestly hoped that every Knight will see that his neighbors and friends visit Fontaine Ferry Monday night. This is the first Catholic society celebration that has taken place this year, and the action of the Central Committee deserves appreciation.

He sustained serious injury at the recent stonemason fire and narrowly escaped death. Capt. Harry Swain, Con Savage and Capt. Edward Kennedy, who have also been on the sick list, are improving and hope to be soon on duty.

PROGRAMME

For Catholic Federation Convention Now Almost Completed.

Papal Delegate Will Celebrate Mass For Delegates at Cathedral.

Bishop O'Donoghue Will Preside Over Armory Mass Meeting.

PARADE OVER FIVE MILES LONG

A most interesting programme has been prepared by Chairman E. J. Cooney and his committee for the eleventh annual convention of the American Federation of Catholic Societies, the finishing touches on which were being made as the Kentucky Irish American goes to press. An outline of the programme can be given, but not the complete details. The delegates will be met at the depot on Saturday, August 17, and escorted to their hotels by committees appointed by the local Federation. The 800 or more delegates will march to the Cathedral of the Assumption on Sunday morning, August 18, to attend a solemn high mass, the celebrant being the Most Rev. John Bonzano, Washington, D. C., Papal Delegate, assisted by other high dignitaries and many priests within the sanctuary. The sermon will be delivered by the Right Rev. Joseph Chartrand, Bishop Auxiliary of Indianapolis, who is an eloquent orator.

Promptly at 1:30 o'clock the parade will begin, the route for which will be officially announced in a day or two. It was stated at a meeting of the Parade Committee on Monday night that the parade would be at least five and one-half miles long, and that there would be many beautiful floats. While the parade is a mere incident of the convention, it seems to be more interesting than almost any other feature, probably because people love the spectacular more than the intellectual.

At 8 o'clock at night there will be a public mass meeting at the Armory, and all of those who have combination books will be entitled to receive a book. Bishop O'Donoghue will preside at this meeting. His Excellency James McCreary, Governor of Kentucky, will deliver the address of welcome on behalf of the State, and the Hon. William O. Head will welcome the delegates to the city. Edward Feeney, President of the Federation, will deliver the response on behalf of the national body. The Papal Delegate will also deliver an address followed by one from the Most Rev. Sebastian G. Messmer, Archbishop of Milwaukee, on "The Principles of Catholic Federation." The meeting will close with a grand chorus of several hundred voices. "My Old Kentucky Home" will be sung.

On Tuesday morning at St. Boniface church, Green and Jackson, a solemn requiem mass will be sung for the repose of the souls of the deceased members of the Federation, and all of the delegates will attend. The Right Rev. James A. McPaul, Bishop of Trenton, N. J., will deliver the principal address at the Armory on Tuesday night, his subject being "The Apostolate of the Laity." Hon. Edward J. McDermott, Lieutenant Governor of Kentucky, will deliver an address following the Bishop of Trenton. The Rev. J. H. Dorsey, a colored Catholic priest, will tell what the church is doing for the colored people of the United States and an Indian Chief will deliver an address in his own tongue, which will be translated by a Jesuit missionary delegate. The Hon. John S. Leahy will also deliver an address on the same evening.

Of course there will be a big banquet and many speakers will deliver short talks at this occasion, which promises to be a notable one at which many prominent citizens and visitors will attend.

Next to the parade the Souvenir Book is attracting much interest. The first copies of the book will be out later than next Monday or Tuesday. Delays have resulted in printing on account of the engraving of the cover, which is an elaborate one, the engraving for which was made by Mr. A. E. Ulrich, a Louisville artist, and donated to the Federation. The book will present a beautiful typographical appearance, and as the subject matter was prepared by Edward Fitzpatrick there is every assurance that the sketches will prove interesting, both the historic ones and those of Bishop O'Donoghue and the distinguished men who have preceded him. The book will cost the Federation about fifty cents a copy, but it is to be sold for twenty-five cents after copies have been presented to the clergy, to the press and to the delegates. The book will be on sale next week in all of the Catholic and other book stores and by other agencies. It is expected that the first edition will soon be exhausted, and it is not likely another will be printed as the time is too short now before the convention meets.

Finances were discussed at a meeting of the Convention Committee on Monday night. The sale of combination books has not been as large as it should have been, and it was urged by the Finance Committee that greater energy be shown in the disposal of books, for this is the only way in which funds can be raised to meet the convention expenses. A committee was appointed to consider whether it would be advisable to give a bazaar or other entertainment to raise funds. Col. John H. Whallen, J. C. Kirchdorfer and Dr. Edlin were appointed on this committee with power to act. Col. Whallen, with his usual liberality, tendered Spring Bank Park in case picnic or other outdoor entertainment was given. A large sum will be needed to pay the many expenses of the convention which was visited in Louisville by Bishop O'Donoghue, Mayor Head and the Catholic societies. Though the burden so far has rested on comparatively few, everything points to the success of the convention with the financial difficulties settled.

RIDE ON OHIO.

Hibernian Social Club's Moonlight Monday Night.

The Hibernian Social Club has left nothing undone in the completion of its arrangements for the big moonlight ride up the Ohio on the steamer Corona next Monday evening. Every matter pertaining to the success of this excursion has been scrupulously looked after by Chairman Thomas Quinn and his committee, who have taken every means to insure pleasure for guests that evening. In selecting the various committees the Hibernian Social Club has chosen the men with the most experience to look after their special detail. There will be vocal and instrumental music, Irish dances and other entertainment, and in addition Collins' orchestra will render a specially selected dance programme. For those who wish there will be an abundance of light refreshments. The Corona will leave the foot of Fourth street at 8:30 o'clock and Jeffersonville at 8:45 and those who are not there at that hour will miss one of the most delightful river rides of the season.

MEMPHIS.

Chickasaw Council, Y. M. I., to Initiate Class Sunday.

Chickasaw Council, Y. M. I., of Memphis, Tenn., will have a red-letter day tomorrow, when the Kentucky jurisdiction degree team of this city will confer the degrees on a class of seven candidates. For the past few months the officers and members of this council have been working to increase their number, and the success of their efforts is most gratifying. Chickasaw Council is one of the oldest and most progressive in this section of the country, and during the past year has arranged for a club house surpassed by none in the South. Its ranks will be found the representative Catholic young men of Memphis, and the initiation tomorrow will give Chickasaw a still firmer standing and add great strength to the Y. M. I. Supreme President Robert T. Burke, of Louisville, has been named to represent the Supreme Council and President W. J. Hennessy on this occasion. The degree team, consisting of Messrs. Robert T. Burke, Thomas D. Cline, Dr. J. A. Casper and Phil J. Sandman, will leave this evening for Memphis. They will give a fine exemplification of the degree work.

RECENT DEATHS.

Amid many beautiful floral tributes from sorrowing relatives and friends, the funeral of Blanche Mariani, infant daughter of John A. and Blanche Whallen Westfall, 1152 Logan street, took place Tuesday morning, leaving at a home her short life on earth had made happy and bright. The interment took place in St. Louis cemetery.

The relatives and friends of Joseph and Emma Lehmann, Shelby and Kentucky streets, sympathize with them in the loss of their beautiful little daughter, Mary Ida, whose sudden death came as a great shock to her parents and relatives. Her funeral took place Saturday morning from St. Vincent de Paul's church and was quite largely attended.

Death's angel brought grief and mourning Tuesday evening to the home of James and Martha Murta, 3305 Rudd avenue, when Joseph, their infant son, was called to join the angelic hosts. The funeral took place Thursday morning with interment in Portland cemetery. To the bereaved parents is extended the sympathy of a wide circle of friends.

St. Brigids parish mourns a devout and faithful member in the death of Mrs. Mary A. Cowley. Born in Ireland, she was the oldest and most numerous body of Christians should be an American. I am a Catholic and I can not understand why I am not as loyal an American as any Protestant simply because I belong to a religion which teaches me to have respect for all duly constituted authority. In his acts regarding religious matters Mr. Taft has always shown himself to be President of all the people and not any one section of them. In rescinding Valentine's order in the Indian school case Mr. Taft was simply giving all those interested a chance to have a hearing in the matter. What could be more un-American than to deny a condemned person the right to defend himself? The writer also calls the Catholic a "foreign" religion. Why is it "foreign" any more than any other? Were Luther, Calvin and Henry VIII. Americans? They were not when I learned history. Catholic

MINISTERS DID PAINTING.

The sight of a Baptist and a United Brethren clergyman busy at work painting the Catholic church was about as curious a sight as has been witnessed in Louisville, Mich., for some time. Rev. S. G. Hall, pastor of the United Brethren church, secured the contract for painting the church and on day last week was assisted by Rev. C. A. Cutler, pastor of the Baptist church, who is also a hustler.

RALLY

Of Louisville and Lexington Democrats at the Latter Point.

Wilson and Marshall Celebration Including a Big Bargoo Festival.

Many Announcements Expected in Near Future From Local Democrats.

ROOSEVELT'S SHAM STRENGTH

The Democratic organizations of Louisville are preparing to attend the monster Wilson and Marshall rally arranged by the Democrats of Fayette county, to be held at Lexington on September 1, and from present indications a larger crowd will go from this district than the one which attended the Governor's inauguration. Not only the Democratic leaders of Louisville and Lexington, but also the rank and file of both places, have always been working together in harmony on all party questions, and the presence of so many visiting Democrats, in addition to the bright prospects of the National Democratic ticket this fall, will doubtless aid in bringing back to the fold some of the Democrats of the Bluegrass who have strayed away in the last couple of years under the guise of Fusionists and Reformers. The local Democrats now feel so sure of their position here that they can afford to do a little missionary work on the outside.

Speaking of the present bright outlook here, and as there is no local contest in November, many prospective office-holders are announcing their candidacy for 1913. Charles J. Cronan, the popular Clerk of the Lower Board, has announced for Sheriff, being the first official entry. Robert Kallenbacher and John H. Page will probably try for Circuit Clerk. James R. Reedy is prominently mentioned for Police Judge, and it is expected Judge Boldrick will also announce for re-election. If Ed O'Connor doesn't announce for Balliff of the same court Will H. Page will be a strong candidate. Popular Scott Bullitt can have anything he wants from the party, but will probably announce for re-election as County Attorney. P. S. Ray and ex-Mayor Weaver may fight it out for County Clerk. Joseph Timmons or Gus Hecken will try to succeed County Assessor Ed Barry. Senator Mark Ryan will have no opposition, and Representative Charles Knight, the first ward hustler, will probably succeed Herman Newcomb as Senator. Representatives Will Perry, Sam Robertson and William Kuh will probably have walk-overs. The list of eligible Mayorality candidates is being lengthened daily and it now includes John D. Wakefield, Dr. John Buschmeyer, David Hirsch, James R. Brown, W. J. Baird, James B. Camp, and our present Sheriff, A. M. Emmer.

The certainty that the Roosevelt ticket will be in the field has strengthened the Democratic chances very much, but a lot of the bluster behind the Rough Rider is the A. P. A. elephant in the Republican party, who are opposed to Taft on account of the convention proceedings, as they have been swallowed words that for years, but because they are opposed to President Taft principally on account of his fairness to Catholics and Catholic questions and are making their anti-Catholic sentiment behind the Roosevelt banner. The following letter to an Eastern paper with anti-Catholic tendencies is self-explanatory and sizes up their position very thoroughly.

Dear Editor: As a constant reader of your paper I was quite surprised to read the unreasonable and prejudiced letter entitled "Worse Than a Trimmer," concerning President Taft. In the first place, Mr. Taft was not elected as a Unitarian, but as an American, and Catholic votes helped to elect him, as well as Protestant ones. What the writer means by "American people" is difficult to understand, but he seems to think it is synonymous with "Protestant." It would seem that the fifteen millions or more Catholics of the United States had no rights in their own country. It is a known fact that there are no more loyal citizens in the United States than Catholics, and I am at a loss to know why the scoundrels of the oldest and most numerous body of Christians should be an American. I am a Catholic and I can not understand why I am not as loyal an American as any Protestant simply because I belong to a religion which teaches me to have respect for all duly constituted authority. In his acts regarding religious matters Mr. Taft has always shown himself to be President of all the people and not any one section of them. In rescinding Valentine's order in the Indian school case Mr. Taft was simply giving all those interested a chance to have a hearing in the matter. What could be more un-American than to deny a condemned person the right to defend himself? The writer also calls the Catholic a "foreign" religion. Why is it "foreign" any more than any other? Were Luther, Calvin and Henry VIII. Americans? They were not when I learned history. Catholic

DUBLIN.

Asquith's Tremendous Reception Overshadows All Other Events.

Liberals Victories Give Extraordinary Impetus to Irish Cause.

Insurance Bill and Other Issues Adding to Their Power.

THE ORANGE REVOLT FAILING

Premier Asquith's tremendous reception in Dublin overshadows all other events of the week, cables T. P. O'Connor. Even the attempts to attack him by the suffragettes only serve to bring into greater relief the extraordinary enthusiasm of the welcome by Ireland, and these outrages would have been much worse if it had not been for the sleepless vigilance and great organizing genius of Joseph Devlin. The enthusiasm of the gathering, with the desire of the people to approach Asquith and shake his hand in an affectionate welcome, exposed him and John Redmond to greater peril, as the police escort was unable to protect adequately these precious lives. If anything serious had happened, a prompt lynching on the spot probably would have added another tragedy, for Ireland has no tolerance for virago methods. But everything passed off without any hitch, except for these two futile attempts, and everybody is relieved. The visit marks the culmination of a week triumphant for the future.

The crushing victory of the Liberals in the three concerned election fight in Hanley has given an extraordinary impetus to the home rule cause. The haunting danger of an unbroken succession of bad by-election defeats now is laid forever, and the course is clear for the passage of the bill by the end of November in the House of Commons, and quicker and more certain passage the second and third time if the House of Lords persists in the rejection of the bill. Even the Ulster threats are beginning to pall, although the unscrupulous appeals to religious bigotry and civil war continue. The comparative tranquillity of the celebrations on the twenty-fifth of July was a hopeful sign, although 2,000 workmen, Catholics and Liberal Protestants, still are excluded from work in the Belfast shipyards.

The Liberals now hope to follow the victory at Hanley by a similar victory at Crewe, were a second three-cornered fight will go on. This week has seen also the beginning of the great new epoch brought about by the insurance act and all signs point to the immediate and almost universal success of the measure. A small labor dispute on the docks in Liverpool, which was hailed by the Tories as a great defeat for the measure, collapsed after twenty-four hours, and the rebellious duchesses, with their threats of passive resistance and the dismissal of the servants, only aggravate and amuse the masses of the people. It is plain now that the high tide against the insurance bill has spent itself, and though the dispute with the doctors still is unsettled, the act promises to work smoothly. The success of this act will bring a great accession to the voting strength of the Liberal party when the benefits begin, in a few months, to flow.

Some croakings from one or two of the prominent radical journalists break the general harmony in the Liberal ranks. These chieftains are due to the alarm, and it is further gigantic demands for millions by Winston Churchill for the navy. Some even want the length of prophesying that Lloyd-George's resignation was imminent and that there were threats of a big radical revolt.

These apprehensions are grossly exaggerated, though all of the Liberals look with certain anxiety toward Winston Churchill's speech on the naval programme, but the present impression is that Churchill's demands, although showing renewed anxiety with regard to the latest increase in the German navy, will not make too great a strain on Lloyd-George's loyalty to the ministry or the loyalty of the bulk of the Liberals to their party.

CLERICAL CHANGES.

Rev. Father Richard Wuerth, O. F. M., who during his five years' pastorate has done so much for St. Boniface church, has been transferred by his superiors to the pastorate of St. John's church in Cincinnati. Though the removal of Father Richard comes as a promotion, his departure is greatly regretted, as was evidenced at the farewell reception tendered him by 1,000 members of St. Boniface congregation. The successor to Father Wuerth comes from Terre Haute, where the people were loath to part with him.

MICHAEL HART INJURED.

Michael Hart, employed by the Kentucky Refining Company, was the victim of a painful and serious accident Monday morning. While at work a piece of machinery fell on his hand, mashing his fingers so badly that amputation was necessary. He was at once removed to his home on S street, near the city limits.

lies are not seeking any favors, but simply want justice like the rest of their fellow citizens. In conclusion it might be added that if Protestants, instead of worrying about the faith of other Christian religions, would spend their time in fighting divorce, vice, socialism, anarchism and the numerous other ills which are gaining a foothold in our fair country, their churches would not be empty and they would not find time for such foolish and antiquated bigotry.

NAZARETH.

Sister Rose Elected Mother General of Sisters of Charity.

Following the annual retreat of the Sisters of Charity, which ended last Friday at Nazareth, Mother Rose, who was first assistant under the late Mother Eutropea and has been the acting mother since her death last April, was elected to the position of Mother General of the Sisters of Charity of Nazareth, one of the greatest orders of women associated with the Catholic church. For first assistant Sister Dula was elected, and Sister Mary Ignatius second, Sister Mary Stephen third, and Sister Marie Evangelista treasurer general, Sister Mary Ignatius is the new mother assistant. There was also a reception into the order, among them being Miss Mary Francis and Miss Mary Curley, of Louisville, the former being Sister Margaret Eugene and the latter Sister Mary Aquinas. Present at Nazareth were the Right Rev. Denis O'Donoghue, the Rev. P. M. Monaghan, Rev. John T. O'Connor, Rev. John T. Hill, of Louisville, the Rev. William H. Hogarty, Rev. Joseph Hogarty and others.

PORTIUNCULA.

Conditions For Gaining This Great Indulgence Easy.

The Portiuncula indulgence, the "indulgence of indulgences," which tradition says was granted to St. Francis in a vision of Our Lord, at the intercession of his Blessed Mother, will be procurable on August 2 in any of the Franciscan churches, and by special decree of the Holy Father, extending the privilege, to all of the churches and pious communities to which the privilege was heretofore extended and in which it has already been extended.

DOMINICANS

Will Celebrate With Pomp Feast of Patron Saint.

There are numerous feast days in August, but none greater than that of St. Dominic, which will be observed at St. Louis Bertrand's church and throughout the world with solemn pomp and splendor. St. Dominic, the illustrious founder of the Dominican order, whose Feast day is celebrated August 4, was born at Segovia in Spain. It is related that some time before the birth of the saint his mother was favored by a vision in which she beheld a dog carrying a torch in his mouth, with which he seemed to be setting the world on fire. At first she was much alarmed, for she looked upon this sign from heaven as an evil omen that foreboded an unhappy career for the child she was soon to give to the world. It was, however, revealed to her that St. Dominic would set the world on fire by the torch of his burning faith. When Dominic was brought to the font of baptism all were amazed at the appearance of a bright, beautiful star hovering over the child's forehead. Of his childhood little is recorded until he reached the age of fourteen, when he began the study of theology. After ordination he was chiefly conspicuous for his missionary labors and zeal. There was no limit to his travels, and when the Albigensian heresy broke out he labored with almost superhuman effort to bring back Christians to a sense of their duty. To advance his purpose more effectually, he founded an order which was to become famous for its preaching and learning, while at the same time it was to accomplish its ends as much by prayer and contemplation as by active labor. After a life of unremittant labor and prayer this holy man of God went to receive his reward from his Divine Master, while throughout time his name will be cherished and revered by generations of men who live under and are guided by his rule.

SCORES THE GUARDIANS.

The non-Catholic Independent shows up the "Guardians of Liberty." That this society is opposed to Catholics is apparent. "The name of it," says the Independent, "indicates its purpose; but what is the danger to liberty which it will fight? It is perfectly clear that this organization is directed against what it regards as the one danger to America liberty, namely, the Roman Catholic church. That is the only body which is popularly charged with owning 'superior temporal allegiance to any power above that due to his country; the only one said to be opposed to 'complete separation of church and State'; the only one said to menace our undenominational public school system and to be seeking the support of public funds for ecclesiastical purposes. The Catholic press has immediately recognized this new society as directed against its church and as a new form of the Know-Nothings and the A. P. A., and such it evidently is."

It then quotes the official circular of the Guardians and adds: "If this is not a revival of Know-Nothingism then our memory of Know-Nothingism is greatly at fault. The purpose of that organization, which swept the country in the 50's, was to attack the Catholic church and to exclude its members from political office. This new organization has this Section 14 in its 'Declaration of Principles': 'It shall be the duty of all members to support candidates for political office who are good and true men, earnest patriots and loyal to the principles of the order.' That can mean nothing else than Never vote for a Catholic. The statement issued proceeds further at length to attack the Catholic church. It tells us that 'the Roman hierarchy is a political machine' * * * casting its influence in favor of those who are willing to serve, not the best interests of their country, but of the Catholic Church; and it declares: 'We shall not hesitate to elect this choice of Judges, Congressmen and many high public officials in State and nation, Rome is now engaged in attempting a far weightier task—to dictate the choice of a Chief Magistrate to preside over the destinies of 100,000,000 Americans. We hold that such an organization is a menace to our political peace. It greatly magnifies the danger it sees. It is prescriptive and un-American. The former political anti-Catholic organizations had a brief and dishonorable history and passed away. Protestantism and liberty do not need such defenders. We want to live in the fullest harmony with our Catholic fellow citizens, and we shall find them earnest patriots, lovers of the country's liberty.'"

EDITOR KNOTT MUM.

We are still anxiously awaiting the answer of Mr. Knott, of the Evening Post, explaining why his circulation manager is official head of the Guardians of Liberty in Kentucky. Heretofore the Post has been mighty handy at explaining, but seems to have fallen down badly in this case.

PANAMA CANAL QUESTION.

Hannis Taylor, former Minister to Spain and a writer on international law, in an open letter contends that the Hay-Pauncefote treaty is voidable because of the situation arising out of Panama's cession of the canal zone to the United States. "There is no room for hair-splitting on that point," writes Mr. Taylor. "Within the canal zone the United States is sovereign for all the purposes of international law. Under that law it is well settled that a treaty becomes voidable, not void, whenever a change has taken place in the fundamental condition existing at the time it was made."

In support of his contention he quotes Hall, the English authority on international law, and also points to Russia's repudiation in 1870 of certain portions of the treaty of Paris relating to the Black Sea, and contends it sets a precedent upon which the United States may act. In conclusion, he says in part: "We must take the firm stand under the well-defined principle of international law, as punctuated by the Russian precedent of 1870, that after there has been an essential change in the conditions existing at the time the treaty was made, it becomes voidable. In that way we can justly lift the question out of the domain of international arbitration, where we could never obtain a fair hearing, into the domain of diplomatic negotiation with Great Britain, where we would sure to receive fair and friendly consideration." The United States built and owns the canal, and therefore should by all means control its operation.

TOO MUCH LAW.

Few will disagree with the conclusions of Moorfield Storey, the Boston lawyer, who points out that our people are beset with the notion that the remedy for any trouble which they encounter, however slight, is to be found in a new law, and they rush to the Legislature with every sort of crude proposal for legislation. As a result a flood of new law is let loose upon the inhabitants of each State every year or two years, and any public spirited citizen who watches the Legislature and tries to prevent foolish laws can not but be amazed at the way in which our country is governed. With this torrent of laws that pours out upon the country there goes no increase whatever of respect for the law, but rather the reverse. The more there are the more to break. The legal profession has sunk in popular estimation, and it is largely the fault of the lawyers that this has come about. However, the task of reform is not so easy as it might be imagined. Progress in science is welcomed by everybody, but progress in politics, social life or the law is a different matter. Upon any existing evil in any one of them some one now fawns and is sure to oppose a change. Nevertheless the leaders of the legal profession realize that something must be done.

There is much enthusiasm over the prospects for the coming German day celebration at Phoenix Hill Park the last week in August. Many Irish-Americans have expressed their intention of participating and their attendance will be a factor in making the day a success. Among the distinguished orators who will be heard are Congressman Bartholdt, of Missouri, and Hon. A. E. Wilison, former Governor of Kentucky. This celebration is a preliminary for the great National Saengerfest to be held in this city in 1914.

The International Society of Women has been granted the use of Central Park for religious meetings on Sunday afternoons after promising that no sectarian elements will be permitted to enter them. Gen. Castelman and the Park Commissioners must see to it that this promise, easier made than kept, is not in any way violated.

The Methodist Episcopal church in Canada has taken a stand against its members who grow tobacco for a living. What will the Methodist farmers in the rich tobacco growing lands of Kentucky say to this edict? The Methodists are always doing something queer.

Mayor Head's proposition for the sale of the city's gas stock meets with hearty approval everywhere. The taxpayers will greatly benefit thereby.

Congratulations to Hon. James Regan and the Ancient Order of Hibernians upon the wisdom displayed at the Chicago convention.

The Catholic Press Association will receive a genuine Kentucky welcome when it meets here next month.

VINCENTIANS

Made Splendid Exhibition at St. Martin's Church Last Sunday.

Hundreds of Men Receive Holy Communion and Hear Sermon.

Rains Prevent Many From Attending Afternoon General Meeting.

WORKS OF A GREAT SOCIETY

Every street leading to St. Martin's church, Shelby and Gray streets, presented an animated scene as early as 7 o'clock Sunday morning, as hundreds of men arrived from all sections of the city to attend the general communion and St. Vincent de Paul Society of Louisville. The various conferences formed in the school hall and on Gray street and as the great throng entered the spacious edifice the spectacle was indeed edifying. The Vincentians were met by the pastor, Rev. Father Ohle, who had reserved the center and side aisles for them. As they entered the church the organ peals forth its strains and the sanctuary was a bower of artistic beauty with its myriad of electric lights and floral decorations.

Rev. Father Bohlsen was the celebrant of the high mass, and following the gospel he preached a short but powerful sermon. "He that showeth mercy to the poor shall be blessed" was the text of his discourse, in which he plainly demonstrated that Christianity has been the best benefactor of the poor. Father Bohlsen pointed to the undeniable fact that charity has always been fostered by the Catholic church, which has in all ages and everywhere maintained hospitals, homes and refuges for the sick, the poor, the orphan and those without shelter. He then dwelt upon the life of St. Vincent de Paul and his grand work, pointing out his sacrifices and suffering and his love for mankind, setting an example that true Vincentians should follow. It was his duty, he said, to visit the needy, the neglected, the sick and the poor, and thus gain for themselves the blessings promised.

The attendance at the general meeting at the Knights of Columbus Hall in the afternoon was not as large as at the church services in the morning. This was due to the heavy rains that fell and kept many in their homes. But for those present the meeting was full of interest and the addresses of Rev. Father Eugene Donahue, of the Cathedral, and Rev. Louis Deppen were highly appreciated and served to encourage their hearers. President John J. Coffey was absent from the city, and Al Smith, of the Cathedral Conference, occupied the chair. The visiting of the needy in their homes is the fundamental work of the St. Vincent de Paul Society, and a detailed report of the visitations made was submitted by each conference. Prominent among the special works was the report of those who visited the School of Reform, the jail, the hospitals and other institutions.

Father Donahue congratulated the society on the excellent turnout at St. Martin's but regretted that so many were absent and therefore unable to gain the indulgence on this occasion. Father Deppen's words made a deep impression. He said the St. Vincent de Paul Society was yet in its infancy, and predicted that the people twenty years hence, will thus look back upon the present. Before adjourning twenty more men were enrolled.

WILL GIVE PICNIC.

At a well attended meeting of Division 4, A. O. H., Monday evening in Bertram Hall it was decided to give a picnic before the season was over, and President John Hennessy appointed the following committee to act in conjunction with himself as the committee of arrangements: Robert Mitchell, Thos. J. Langan, L. J. Meaney, Patrick Burke and John J. Barry. The exact date and park will be announced next week. Chairman Thomas Farrell, of the Visiting Committee, reported that at present there was only one member on the sick list, Patrick Price, of Tyler avenue. Much interest was manifested in the coming Catholic Federation convention and it was the unanimous sentiment of those present that the Hibernians should march as a body in the parade.

ANOTHER CAVE EXCURSION.

The entertainment committee of Trinity Council, Y. M. I. reported Monday evening at the regular meeting that they were making arrangements to run another excursion to Mammoth Cave on September 1, and the rates schedule, etc., would be about the same as last year. President P. J. Sandmann urges every member of the council to be present next Monday evening, as an important change in the constitution has been submitted to the members by ex-Supreme President W. M. Fogarty, and every member should give his opinion for the benefit of the delegates going to the Kentucky Grand Council next month at Owensboro.

CHURCH TO BE BUILT.

The Rev. Father R. C. Ruff, recently appointed to the pastorate of St. Patrick's church at Stillton and the mission at West Point, presided over a meeting of Catholic residents of the latter place last Saturday at which money sufficient for the erection of a new church was subscribed. Father Ruff has had the deed made out to the Right Rev. Bishop O'Donoghue, and the work of building will soon begin. The new edifice will front upon the Lincoln Way.

The Pennsylvania boss went down in the first round of the Chicago convention under Elihu Root's right hander, and now comes Bill Flynn to earth under Johnson's heavy hammer. The first Flynn is neither Irish nor Catholic; the second is a Russian Jew with a name that sounds like a selditz powder in action. There is no trusting to names these days.

NAMES LOSING TRUST.

This is a hard time on the Flynn.
